SendPro® C Auto

When speeds and feeds are the similar, the difference is the design. The Pitney Bowes SendPro C Auto was specifically designed to bring feeding technology typically reserved for the largest mailers to every business. Paired with cloud-enabled SendPro technology, this powerful solution can help you reduce spend while you send.

Feeding Technology

Rather than relying on standard technologies for this class of solution, the SendPro C Auto was designed from scratch, utilizing the best technologies from high-end solutions- like a wide feed deck with self-aligning feed rollers and bump rollers- to ensure you have the most reliable mail processing experience possible

Feed Separation

Pitney Bowes integrates reverse feed technology into every SendPro C Auto Solution. Reverse Separation helps reduce the potential of "stream-fed" mail- effectively pulling the mail pieces on top backwards as the bottom piece is fed forward. This helps reduce the possibility of double feeding or "stream-feeding" that can occur in competitive solutions that rely on static separator fingers

USPS® IMpB®

The integrated ability to produce IMpB labels is provided via the optional label printer that mounts seamlessly to the C Auto.

Multi-Carrier printing

The optional ability to rate FedEx® and UPS® and produce carrier labels can be accessed directly through the SendPro C-Auto or alternately via a desktop. Only Pitney Bowes provides you with the integrated ability to manage all three carriers via the postage Meter Interface.

Desktop Stamp Printing

When accessed from the desktop, the SendPro multi-carrier application includes the ability for you to print USPS® stamps- via stamp sheets, an optional stamp roll printer, or even directly onto the envelope. This extends stamp printing outside of the mail center- and also provides an effective fail-safe if the mail system should ever require servicing.

Consolidated Spend

Only Pitney Bowes, through our innovative Purchase Power™ Carrier Payment Solution, can provide you with consolidated billing for you metering, USPS Shipping, UPS, and FedEx, Permit Mail and even supplies spend. One bill. Once a month- all carriers- simplifying Accounts payable and allow you to leverage your money more wisely.
